NEBRASKA FOR A GREATER OGDEN

One of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held in the Weber club describes the meeting held there last night when the Ogden Nebraska club was organized. This meeting was the result of letters sent out by the Ogden publicity bureau to former residents of Nebraska now living in Ogden.
All former Nebraska residents present last night expressed pleasure at having come to Ogden and they will do all they can to bring others from their old state to this city which has dealt so well with them.

A long list of names is being prepared and literature describing Ogden and the advantages to be enjoyed here will be sent out and it is thought that this will be the means of bringing many Nebraska residents here.

It was decided at last night's meeting to have a Nebraska day celebration on Arbor day of each year. Arbor day was selected because J. Sterling Morton, the man who did so much to establish Arbor day, was a Nebraskan.
It was also decided to give a banquet in the near future and have prominent speakers present.

The officers of the Ogden Nebraska

IDAHO MAN IS KILLED BY BOY
Salmon City, Ida., Oct. 16.—Mistaken for a deer, Charles O. Scott was shot and killed by his friend, Tommy Jacobson, near Forney. Scott and Jacobson, who is 15 years of age, were hunting about three miles from Forney. They had found deer tracks and had separated, Scott working his way through the brush while Jacobson was traveling along a ridge. Heavy snow was falling and Scott was wearing an old Slicker.

Next Stevens was killed Friday afternoon by falling down a 100-foot raile at the Musgrove mine. In company with E. Minert, Stewart had been working in the raise that morning and upon leaving at noon had split fourteen fuses. Only nine reports were heard. Upon returning in the afternoon, Minert advised Stewart not to go up at once, as the gas was very strong. Minert went outside, but on his return found that Stewart had gone up. Minert stepped into a short drift to allow Stewart to pass him.

He does not know whether Stewart failed to step on the ladder in leaving this level or whether he was affected by the gas and fell from it as he was descending. But he soon heard the thud of Stewart's body as it fell 100 feet below. Minert then started down himself, but thirty feet from the bottom, affected by the gas, he fell upon the body of Stewart. Minert was picked up by Oliver Dupuis, who was going up to inspect the work in the 100-foot level when Stewart's body was hurled past him. Dupuis had started to return, but before he could reach the bottom Minert's senseless form whizzed past him in the darkness. Minert has recovered from his injuries.
